THE WINE

Vineyard Profile

Les Muretins Estate—about ten hectares in all—includes several plots located on the appellations of Tavel (6.50ha) and Lirac (3.80ha). The plots in Tavel show all of the soils present across the appellation, offering a rich and diverse variety of terroirs. From the stony marls to worn pebbles on layers of sand, to thin clay soils with limestone fragments and soils made up of colluvial deposits, all of the land is somewhat claybased, which gives the vines a good level of resistance to drought. The plots are planted with white and red grenache, syrah, cinsault and picpoul.

Winemaker's Notes

- The Tavel from Les Muretins Estate is so enchanting thanks to the pale tint it has.
- The nose is very fruity but with some mature and complex notes giving it richness.
- Tangy and lively at first, the palate gets a surprising amplexness before a long and spicy finish.
- This delicious Tavel is ideal for aperitif and accompanies perfectly grilled meat and spicy dishes.

REVIEWS

Tavel – Domaine des Muretins – 2016

89 Points - Wine Spectator, August, 2017

Ripe and lively, with lots of pomegranate, plum and cherry notes mixed together, kept fresh by a streak of wet stone through the finish. Drink now.
